10 CENTS PER WEEK.

THE BIG RUSSIAN STRIKE BEGAN TODAY

16,000 Soldiers Patrol the Streets of St. Petersburg--Chaotic Condition.

THE GREAT STRIKE BEGINS.
St. Petersburg, Dec. 5.—The pre-arranged strike began today at various points throughout the empire. The strike has assumed formidable proportions.

At St. Petersburg the employees of 72 factories struck, and about a hundred and ten thousand workmen are idle, at Moscow fifty-eight thousand employees of twenty-six factories struck and reports from other cities give the following figures: Vladimir, six factories, sixteen thousand men; Warsaw, seven factories, ten thousand men; Kiev, six factories, and five thousand men.

16,000 Cossacks Are On Guard.
St. Petersburg, via. Eydtkuhnen, Dec. 5.—An incredible state of affairs exists in this city today. The central postoffice is under guard and great crowds of people are denied access.

Chaos reigns in the capital. The city is divided into four military districts and over sixteen thousand Cossacks and infantry armed with machine guns are kept constantly on guard.

OLD KENTUCKY

WILL BE WELL REPRESENTED
IN NEW YORK NEWSPAPER.

Representative in Paducah Today
Preparing to Write Up the City.

A native Kentuckian, who is familiar with Paducah and is making himself better acquainted with the city, is here to give Paducah a write-up in the largest commercial paper in the country, the New York Commercial. This is a request of the recent State Development convention held in Louisville. The industrial correspondent is Mr. F. A. Sawyer, who is here today and this afternoon visited Secretary D. W. Coons, of the Commercial club. He will leave tonight.

As to matter of space for this advertisement of the city the Commercial club will have to decide. Louisville has taken four pages and Ashland two. Other Kentucky cities have subscribed from one to two pages.

"I used to live in Kentucky," said Mr. Sawyer to a Sun reporter, "and naturally I love the old soil on which I was raised. My home was in Jefferson county, of which Louisville is the county seat, and I have also been in Paducah before. Here you have one of the best cities in Kentucky. This afternoon I am going to make a round of the manufacturing districts and will be in a position when I get through with my investigation to give the city of Paducah a great mention. This morning I visited the river and found it full of business."

Here Mr. Sawyer was apprised of the fact that Paducah drew business from the four largest western waterways—the Mississippi, Ohio, Cumberland and Tennessee rivers—regardless of the smaller courses. He said this was a great point in favor of Paducah in the way of transportation and if the Commercial club sees the wisdom of taking space in the Commercial he will give prominence to Paducah's river advantages.

The issue the Commercial proposes to get out about December 15 or 18 will be especially devoted to Kentucky and will contain the advantages, business resources and industrial possibilities of the state.

Mr. Sawyer is accompanied by his wife, who is at Fulton and he will leave for there tonight to join her. Mr. Sawyer has been on the Commercial for several years and like many Kentucky newspaper men has made a big success in the greatest city of America.

LARGE CROWDS

ARE ATTENDING THE MEETINGS
AROUND PADUCAH.

Rev. Cates Has a Packed House at Nearly Every Service Held.

The stereopticon lectures being given by Rev. Robert M. Hopkins, the state evangelist for the Kentucky Christian Church Sunday School Association, at the Tenth Street Christian church, are well attended and are both entertaining and instructive. These lectures pertain to the advance ment of the Sunday school work in the state. The last one will be given this evening. Mr. Hopkins will leave tomorrow for Benton and Murray.

The "Week of Prayer and Self-Denial" is being observed by Woman's Foreign Missionary societies of the Broadway Methodist church with special services at the church, each afternoon. Miss Alice Waters of Murray, a returned missionary from China, made an interesting talk yesterday, and there was a number of ladies present. The services are held at 2:30 o'clock.

Another large crowd was present last evening at the First Baptist church to hear the Rev. G. C. Cates of Louisville. Dr. Cates is a vivid and eloquent speaker and makes his sermon very realistic. There was much interest manifested last night. Rev. G. W. Hill of Louisville is assisting Dr. Cates.

Illinois Men Here to Arrange for a Chautauqua Next Summer

There is to be a meeting of the Commercial club this evening at 7:30 o'clock at the club headquarters for the purpose of meeting gentlemen from Illinois who are here on important business, having a proposition to submit to Paducah men.

The directors of the club will hold a special meeting at 4 o'clock this afternoon.

The gentlemen from Illinois are: Mr. J. H. Shaw and Mr. James Speed, Chautauqua superintendents. They desire to meet the business men and others interested in holding a Chautauqua season in Paducah next summer. They desire to meet all business men and others interested in the

at the Commercial club rooms, 115 South Fourth street.

These gentlemen desire to make arrangements for holding this meeting in Paducah next season, which will result in bringing a great many visitors to our city, and thus be of great importance to the business interest, as well as all others, and it is hoped and expected that a full attendance of the business people will be had tonight.

The Chautauqua held at Owensboro and other places over the country by these gentlemen and their assistants, have been largely attended, and not only financial successes, but of great benefit financially and socially to the towns where they have

PADUCAHANS WILL BE IN ENTERPRISE

Take $10,000 Worth of Stock in Amusement Organization.

It Will Be a Big Affair Known As "Dreamland"—Fills Forty-
Eight Cars.

WILL INCORPORATE VERY SOON

Paducah will be the home and the winter quarters of one of the largest amusement concerns in the country, according to the announcement made today by prominent Paducahans interested in this line of business.

The "Dreamland Amusement Co." has been organized, and will be incorporated under the laws of Kentucky in about two weeks. Ten thousand dollars has been subscribed by local investors, but this is not for any of the attractions, but for the company's expenses of next season.

Mr. Elwood M. Johnson, of Nashville, who has been here for several days at work on the project, stated today that he had succeeded in his work, and would go to Abilene, Kas., tomorrow to remain two weeks getting things in shape for the season.

Everything is now ready for the start, should it be desired to make it now, the attractions being at Abilene. The main features of the company will be: Fighting the Flames, Hippodrome, Singing Girls of Bagdad, Fair Japan, Magic City, New York to North Pole, Kissing Bee, Seville, Am, Jumping Horses, and two others to be decided on later.

It will require two train sections to transport the attractions, over 45 cars to be used by the company. The company will not be known as a carnival or amusement company, but simply as "Dreamland," deriving the title from the famous New York Coney Island resort by that name. Some of the attractions were at Dreamland last summer. The name of the special train to be used will be "Dreamland En Route."

The company expects to start out in April, and will jump from Abilene, Kas., to Birmingham, Ala. If it contracts to furnish the attractions for the Elks carnival in Paducah the coming spring, it will be here about the third week in May.

Paducah will be its home and it will winter here. The attractions are owned by various persons, and are worth, Mr. Johnson estimates, fully $100,000. The Fire Fighters alone carries a full city fire equipment and over 100 men.

The $10,000 raised in Paducah is not to buy the attractions but merely to put them on the road and keep them going. There is a great deal of money in a carnival company if it has good luck.

Mr. Johnson will return in two weeks to file articles of incorporation.

GENERAL MANAGER.

Mr. C. M. Budd Gets Important Position With West Kentucky.

Mr. C. M. Budd, the popular coal man, has been appointed manager of the West Kentucky Coal company, with headquarters in Paducah. He will have charge of the offices at St. Louis, Memphis and other places. Previously Mr. Budd was manager of the local office, but after a business trip to the general headquarters east, from which he returned yesterday, he was given his new position.

The local office will hereafter be managed by Mr. Gardner, Gilbert, who has been bookkeeper in the office, and Capt. William Patterson, formerly city clerk, assumes the position of bookkeeper. The changes are effective at once.

Mr. Budd came to Paducah from the east about a year ago, and is one of the most progressive and popular young men in the city. He has many friends here who will be pleased to learn of his promotion.

Rural Carriers.

THE USUAL FATE OF THE PEACEMAKER

Coroner Chas. Crow Attempts to Stop a Fight and is Cut.

Had Been Holding An Inquest When He Came Across Two Fighters.

ONE CUT HIM IN THE LEG

Coroner Charles Crow has the hard luck story of the peacemaker to tell today. He is limping about glad that he is able to navigate at all, and it is all because he tried to pour oil on the troubled waters and stop a fight between two unknown negroes about 3 o'clock this morning.

The coroner was called to the residence of Mattie Moore, colored, who lives near the railroad and Plunkett Hill, about 2:20 o'clock to hold an inquest. The woman's child born yesterday died and there being no doctor in attendance the coroner had to investigate and issue a death certificate.

The coroner made out the necessary papers and started back to the city. He suddenly came across two negroes fighting, and says he stepped in to stop them when he felt a stinging pain in the left leg above the knee. By the time he had recovered and realized that a knife had been stuck into him, both negroes had run away. He knew neither of them, hence no arrests have been made.

Coroner Crow says he found that the knife penetrated his leg an inch and a half, and severed a small artery but did no serious damage. He had it dressed, and is out again today. He says he had no weapon with him or he would probably be holding an inquest over his assailant today. When he attempted to stop the fight he thought it was only a fistfight and for that reason was not afraid.

The body of the child over which he held the inquest was buried today.

MANY AMENDMENTS TO BE PROPOSED

Joint Meeting of the Legislative Boards Tonight.

Paducah May Ask For a Number of Changes to the Second-Class Charter.

PUBLIC IS INVITED TO ATTEND.

Tonight the councilmanic and aldermanic boards will meet in joint session for the purpose of discussing proposed amendments to the charter of cities of the second class, and the meeting will be one of great interest.

Last night Mayor Yelke asked the members of the council to attend the meeting and also extended an invitation to the public in general, the meeting being open and all desiring to be heard.

There are many proposed amendments and the boards will tonight have probably as many as a dozen to act on. One and a very important one, is in regard to the election of city clerks and city treasurers. An amendment will be presented which if passed will enable the city boards to hereafter elect the city treasurer and city clerk instead of the people electing them.

Another proposed amendment is giving the city the right to name the city depository instead of the treasurer, and provides that the bank offering the best inducements be the successful one.

Another is relative to the tax levy, providing that the tax levy of the preceding year remain in force in event the boards get into a wrangle and fail to come to some agreement relative to the rate or levy.

Another gives the city the right to fix the minimum salary of city officers such as jailer etc. At present the charter says the jailers' and turnkeys' salary shall not be lower than a certain amount, and if this amendment goes through, will enable the board to pass an ordinance fixing the salary as low as it desires, leaving the charter to say only how high it shall go.

Another amendment is relative to the salary of councilmen and aldermen for meetings. At present they get $3 for each special and regular meeting. This is prescribed by charter, but an amendment desired will enable the city to fix the rate, making a certain rate for special and another for regular meetings.

Another amendment is relative to the public printer who is now appointed by the city attorney. The amendment proposes to leave the appointment or election of the printer in the hands of the boards, to secure the best bid for work and award the job to the best bidder.

There are several other amendments talked of and the meeting tonight will be of importance. The amendments decided on will be placed in the hands of a committee which will go to Lexington and place Paducah's selections before the joint committee from the other second-class cities, Covington, Lexington and Newport.

Tonight it will also be decided whether or not to agree to December 8th as the time for the meeting at Lexington.

The action taken tonight will in reality amount to nothing, except that it will show what Paducah wants, there will likely not even be a petition to the legislature for such amendments.

If all four of the second-class cities ask for the amendments, however, it still does not follow that they will be made, as the legislature will have to pass the necessary bills amending the charter, and the legislature might not deem it advisable to so change the charter.

IN CHATTANOOGA

Mr. W. M. Cosby, a Former Kentuckian, Dies There.

Deputy U. S. Marshal George W. Saunders, of Mayfield, arrived at noon on business.

He brought the news of the death of his wife's uncle, Mr. W. M. Cosby, of Chattanooga, Tenn. The deceased died last night at 11 o'clock at Chattanooga, of dropsy at the age of 71. He was born in Tennessee but lived in Mayfield engaging in the contracting business for years. He moved to Chattanooga in 1882 and had been a prominent contractor in that city since that time. He leaving a wife, three sons and one daughter. The funeral will be Elk River, Minn., Dec. 5.—C. D. Crawford, who was convicted of the murder of Heine Tundin in a box car here, was hanged this morning in the county jail. Crawford died game and refused to reveal his identity. His spiritual adviser says the man's father is worth several hundred thousand dollars.

POSTOFFICE RECEIPTS.

Almost $1,000 Increase For November Over Last Year.

The report of Postmaster F. M. Fisher for November shows a gratifying increase over the same month last year. The receipts for the last month were $4,912.05 and for November last year, $4,068.70. This is a good increase and shows that the city's business must be growing rapidly every year.

DR. THOMAS MOSS WILL NOT QUALIFY

As Executor of the Will of the Late Major T. E. Moss.

A Letter Received From Him Asking
Mr. W. F. Paxton to Serve as Executor.

THE BODY IS IN A MORTUARY.

A letter received last evening by Mr. W. F. Paxton, president of the Citizens' Savings bank, from Dr. Thomas Moss, of Manila, P. I., states that the remains of the latter's father, the late Thomas E. Moss, have been embalmed and placed in the government mortuary at Manila used for keeping the bodies of army officers until they can be sent home by transport.

Dr. Moss expects to return with the remains as soon as possible, and they will be buried in Oak Grove, under the auspices of the Elks and U. C. V.

Dr. Thomas Moss, it will be recalled is named in the will as executor of the will of the late Major Moss in which his property was left to his two children, Dr. Moss and Mrs. Marie Moss Wheat, and his grandchildren. In event Dr. Moss could not serve, however, the will gives him authority to name the executor.

Dr. Moss states in his letter that he cannot serve, and asks Mr. Paxton to qualify and serve as executor, the necessary papers signed by Dr. Moss and his sister, Mrs. Wheat, requesting and authorizing Mr. Paxton to act, accompanying the letter.

In event Mr. Paxton does not desire to serve, he is asked to name an executor, and is given full authority, so far as it can be conferred by the heirs, to name someone else.

Mr. Paxton has not decided whether he will accept the trust or not. He will probably reach some conclusion in a few days, and make known his decision to County Judge Lightfoot, who will doubtless act in accordance with the wishes of the heirs. The will has been filed in the county clerk's office for probate, and will become effective as soon as it is probated and the executor has qualified.

The letter received by Mr. Paxton was dated October 24th, and reached Paducah December 4th, requiring 41 days for transmission.

NEW PREMIER

Visited the King and Was Cheered As He Left the Palace.

London, Dec. 5.—Sir Henry Campbell Bannerman called at the palace this morning in obedience to a summons from the king for an interview. As he left the palace the new premier was cheered by a large crowd. A statement is issued he will undertake a form of liberal government. It is understood the Duke of Devonshire, a Unionist, and free trade leader, was offered the portfolio but declined.

It is believed that Sir Henry Campbell Bannerman, the new liberal leader, will hold office long enough to dissolve parliament and appeal to the country in a new election. As the house of commons stands, Bannerman can command a majority ranging as high as sixty.

TIE CARRIER DIES FROM HIS WOUNDS

Harvey Johnson, Colored, Expired at City Hospital.

Watt Kennett, Colored, Held For Murder and Frank Kinnon and
Ed. Warren, Complicity.

AN INQUEST WAS HELD TODAY.

Harvey Johnson, colored, who seems to have other names and is a tie carrier died at Riverside hospital at midnight from wounds inflicted yesterday afternoon about 3:30 o'clock on lower Kentucky avenue.

Watt Kennett charged with being directly responsible for the death, is in jail for wife's murder and two companions, Frank Kinnon and Ed. Warren, are in jail, charged with being accessories.

The whole affair is said to be the result of a request for a drink of whiskey made by the dead negro of Watt Kennett yesterday afternoon at the Frank Smiley saloon on Lower Kentucky avenue, near Maiden alley.

Two stabs were inflicted on the dead man, one on the right side of the neck and the other in the left shoulder, the latter reaching the lung cavity. Both stabs severed arteries and before the victim had walked half a square after being stabbed, Johnson fell, too weak to walk any further. He was taken to the city hall, the wounds dressed and later removed to the city hospital where he died at 12 o'clock last night.

Coroner Charles Crow held an inquest this morning but was unable to find only two eye witnesses at first. He adjourned from the Paducah Undertaking Co. to the court house in order to have witnesses identify the prisoners, and after half an hour's work succeeded in securing ten witnesses.

The evidence showed that Johnson walked into the saloon and asked Watt Kennett for a drink. Kennett told him to go on away; that every time he, Johnson, saw him, he asked for a drink. The two walked out and before anyone suspected trouble Kennett had attacked Johnson with a knife. The first stab was the one in the shoulder and Johnson went down after a brick. As he started to stoop Frank Kinnon grabbed him and held his arms to keep him from fighting while Kennett continued to stab at the helpless man. Warren stood near, it is alleged, and instructed Kennett to "cut his damned head off."

After Johnson was released he started for the city hall, but fell at Second and Kentucky avenue, faint from the loss of blood.

The evidence before the jury was substantially as given above and the verdict returned was as follows:

We, the jury, empaneled and sworn to investigate into the death of Harvey Johnson, now lying dead before us find after hearing the evidence that said Harvey Johnson came to his death from being stabbed with a knife in the hands of Watt Kennett, and Frank Kinnon being his accomplice in arguing and promoting the fight or cutting and holding the said Harvey Johnson while said Watt Kennett did the stabbing. We further find that the said death was unprovoked, willful murder and Ed. Warren was an accessory to the murder. Signed.

JOHN COUNTS,
J. W. BURTON,
M. J. MICHAELSON,
CLEM FRANCIOLA,
JIM ELROD,
HARRY RUDOLPH.

After the inquest Coroner Crow went to the grand jury room and secured the recognition of all witnesses to appear before that body on Thursday morning when the grand jury will investigate. This will make it unnecessary to bring the matter into police court, the negroes being simply bound over without preliminary trial.

Coroner Crow will bury the dead tie carrier this afternoon in the Potter's field. He was married and leaves a wife.

People who know Johnson say he was quiet, but sometimes drank too much.

IMPORTANT CASE WILL BE DECIDED

Railroad Commissioner Mc D. Ferguson Attends Meeting.

Final Arguments in Complaints Made By Lumber Men to Be Heard Tomorrow.

DECISION ABOUT FEBRUARY 15

Railroad Commissioner Mc D. Ferguson passed through the city this morning en route to Louisville from his home in La Center to attend a meeting of the railroad commission board in Louisville tomorrow.

"I am going up to attend the meeting, which will close the case of the Norman Lumber Co. against all Kentucky railroads, or railroads running through the state," Commissioner Ferguson stated. "This case has been before the board for sometime and tomorrow the argument will be concluded. The lumber company alleges that the railroads charge excessive rates for ties, cedar and walnut and wants relief. The company wants a general rate on all lumber, ties, etc., and claims that the roads have no right to levy a special rate on material which is all shipped alike generally."

Tomorrow the concluding argument in the lumbermen's complaint will be made by Col. Bennett H. Young of special counsel for the commonwealth. At the conclusion of Col. Young's argument the commission will take the case under advisement. A decision is expected by February 15.

At the session of the commission held Saturday afternoon, arguments were made in the case by J. Van Dyke Norman, for the lumbermen, and Attila Cox, Jr. of the Illinois Central, and Col. Henry L. Stone, of the L. and N., for the railroads.

An adjournment was taken by the commission until tomorrow on account of the illness of Chairman C. C. McChord's daughter, which prevented Col. Young from finishing the argument in the case.

During the session the commission took under advisement a motion made by Col. Young that the L. and N. be required to have its station agents in Kentucky send monthly reports of business direct to the office of the commission at Frankfort. These reports are made to the railroad company the first week in each month. Attorney T. B. Harrison, of the L. and N. warmly contested the motion.

Commissioner A. T. Siler declared himself unequivocally opposed to the system in vogue by the railroads, of giving a "refund" on log shipments with a view of the shipment of the cut lumber over their lines. He said he intended to have the matter thoroughly investigated.

NEW PLAN.

Will Be Proposed By Alderman W. T. Miller in a Short Time.

Alderman W. T. Miller, who became chairman of the joint finance committee of the general council when he took his seat two weeks ago, has a new plan to spring on the members of the boards shortly. He will recommend that the present method of purchasing supplies for the city be abolished, and the city appoint "purchasing agents" from the general council and other city officials. At present most of the city supplies, it is claimed, are purchased by the heads of various departments, and it is said that more or less discrimination is shown in some cases, which is not good for the taxpayers.

Alderman Miller thinks that by naming the mayor and president of the two legislative boards on the purchasing committee, and requiring them to ask bids for everything that costs over a certain amount, the city can save hundreds of dollars a year. All smaller articles may be secured by order from the mayor, and be properly audited by the finance committee before allowed.

HARRY BERESFORD

In "The Woman Hater," at The Kentucky Tuesday Night.

Theatrical Notes

Tuesday evening, Harry Beresford in his latest successful comedy, "The Woman Hater," by David D. Lloyd.

Wednesday evening, Dixon and Fields, eccentric German comedians in their musical "Hans an' Nix."

Friday evening, Rose Cecilia Shay Opera company in the comic opera "Paul Jones."

Saturday, matinee and night, "Friends From Arkansas." Farce comedy.

A San Francisco dispatch says of Estha Williams, who has been seen in Paducah several times in "At the Old Cross Roads." While riding on a swiftly moving train on the Southern Pacific Saturday Miss Estha Williams leading lady of the "Shadows of the Hearth" company, was forced to undergo a delicate surgical operation.

Suffering from a severe cold, the air passages in her throat became almost closed and to save her life arrangements for her relief were immediately made.

Dr. Baxter, who happened to be aboard the train, turned a Pullman car into an operating room and carefully cut the obstructions from her throat and inserted a breathing tube.

Miss Williams rallied at once and was able to continue her journey without interruption. She is recovering rapidly.

Matt Smith, in advance of "Buster Brown," which is playing in Louisville this week, and will be here next Monday, owns an opera house in Albany, New York, and from what he says, it must be out of the ordinary. "We have no free list," he said yesterday. "Every person who attends a performance pays except the dramatic critics and we pay for them. If the manager of a show gives out a pass, it is counted against him, and he has to pay for it just as the house pays for the critics." Mr. Smith says there are few houses in the country where the plan is in vogue.

The Evansville Journal-News of yesterday says:

"The Laura M. company, which was billed for an appearance at the Grand in this city Saturday, matinee and night, disbanded at Owensboro Saturday and the members went back to New York. Miss M. Lillard's illness was given as a reason for the cancellation of the engagement here, but the company's ill-luck on the road together with long jumps that ate up all the earnings, made it a losing venture. It is alleged that the route was made by Klaw & Erlanger, and that it was one with such long jumps that even the best playing company could not take it and last long. The jump from Chattanooga to Owensboro cost more than $200. J. Broccoli, the owner of the company, was formerly a grand opera singer, and since his retirement has been giving his attention to financing road shows. It is said that the Gelsa company will be reorganized and placed on the road again before Christmas."

Harry Beresford, who appeared here last season and left such pleasing impression with everyone who saw him, will pay us another visit tonight and present his latest success, "The Woman Hater," described as a "continuous laugh" and credited with being a "pure and clean in tone and with excellent oppor-methods. This young man is a comedian of the quiet kind who makes fun without straining for effect or resorting to the ordinary methods of the buffoon. His work is artistic in every respect. His personality is charming and his verve and magnetism of that order which is found only among a few of the great artists on the stage today. His manager J. J. Coleman has surrounded him with a cast that contains the names of many of the favorite farceurs whose appearance here always assure crowded houses.

Jess Dandy, the comedian with Pixley and Lunders' company, during the tour of this company through Seattle, Vancouver and Spokane, met a "village cut up" who told him the following story of a farmer who had gone in largely for chicken raising. The latter purchased a book and followed the directions of the agricultural bureau on diet for poultry. One day he discovered a young bantam eating ticks. This worried the chicken farmer considerably and he wondered what would be the outcome. The next day while strolling in the barn he found the said bantam laying a carpet. Fact!

Melville B. Raymond will play his cartoon comedy "Buster Brown" here on Monday, Dec. 11, at the Kentucky and each day between the hours of 11 a. m. and 2 p. m. the funny sixteen page, illustrated, four colored "Buster Brown" Picture Book of which possibly every boy and girl in all the world has heard, will be distributed free to every youngster who applies for them at the above mentioned time and place. In a case of this kind the rule will have to be: "First come, first served," and there can be no deviation from the rule. All who desire to see the "fun" and witness how happy this will make the little ones should be on hand, watch the antics of the boys and girls. One has only to give a slight look now and then to see what infinite joy these books create among them. All is to be on hand at the appointed time boys and girls.

Rose Cecilia Shay, who will be here Friday night as Paul Jones in the comic opera revival of that name, is one of the most talented and versatile women on the American stage. In addition to being one of the greatest mezzo sopranos this country has ever produced, Miss Shay is a painter of no mean ability. To her brush and palette she now returns for relaxation after an arduous season. A sketch book is her constant companion.

Daily Thought.

"No man has a right to live for himself."

THE COUNTY ROADS.

A very sensible conclusion has been reached by County Road Supervisor Bert Johnson, who thinks that money spent on dirt roads is virtually thrown away. He has had practical experience and knows, and the people of the county should use all the influence they can muster to prevent a repetition by fiscal court next year of the useless expenditure of thousands of dollars of past years on the dirt roads.

We need good roads. But dirt roads are not good roads. They are never satisfactory, despite the enormous cost of repairs to them every year. This year about $12,000 has been expended on them, and after the first freezes and thaws they will be ready to swallow up another $12,000 next year—ad infinitum. The course to pursue is to gravel the roads. It costs more money, and will require considerable time, but when you have gravelled a road you have something to show for it, and the cost of keeping it up for years to come is only nominal in addition to having a road that is substantial and serviceable the year around.

Supervisor Johnson seems to have the interests of the people at heart, and it is to be hoped he will convert fiscal court to his theories and continue the good work of the past year, when thirty-five miles of road were changed from dirt to gravel. We like to see an official come out for a good thing, and we believe Supervisor Johnson has done it. Gravel roads mean better roads and less taxes, or if not less taxes more money for other necessities of city and county government. McCracken county should spend no more money on dirt roads except what is absolutely necessary to keep them passable until they can be gravelled, and in the meantime, should gravel all the county roads as rapidly as possible.

There is too much agitation, apparently, over insurance. The principle of insurance is all right, the rates, generally speaking, seem reasonable, and the laws encompassing the business appear to be adequate. The main trouble is that a lot of grafters creep into the business, or possibly developed into grafters after they got in, and the thing to do now is to get rid of them. There is nothing to be gained by attempting to damage the companies themselves because of the acts of a few men, and if it is persisted in, it can only injure the already much-imposed-on policyholders. Whenever public expositions in such cases are made, there are always a few cranks to bob up and want to go to extremes. The questions involved are for calm, conservative, sensible men to handle, not legislate any more. There's legislation enough already.

The Kansas City Journal thinks there is some hope, as it rises to remark: "The reports of political corruption in Philadelphia seem to have been much exaggerated. The ballot box of one precinct where 173 votes had been polled was found to contain 373 ballots—an average of less than three for each voter." Louisville might do much better however if they'd only let someone see inside the ballot boxes.

It is suggested that the government could be saved thousands of dollars if congressmen did not introduce useless bills to be printed. Unfortunately many congressmen do not seem to be there to save money but to do foolish things to let their constituents know that they are in Washington and a part of the government.

ST. LOUIS MINISTER

IS SAID TO BE INSANE AND COMPLAINT IS MADE OF HIM.

He is Not the German Minister by the Same Name Who Was Here Recently.

Yesterday's St. Louis papers give an account of a misfortune which has befallen a retired German minister there. The article has been read with a great deal of interest in Paducah, many thinking that the minister mentioned is the one by that name here until a year or more ago. Friends here, however, say that it is not the same one, as the St. Louis man's age is given at 58, while the one here was a young man. In addition, the initials are not the same as the one here.

The article in question is from yesterday's Globe-Democrat, and is as follows:

"Rev. John C. Rupprecht, formerly an active minister in the German Evangelical Lutheran church, was taken to the city hospital from his home, 2123 Chippewa street yesterday, to be held for observation, following a request from his wife, Mrs. Katherine Rupprecht. Her husband, she stated, arose from bed at all hours of the night and walked from room to room, reading the Bible aloud and preaching as if to a congregation."

"Rev. Rupprecht, she stated, was formerly a patient in the city insane asylum, but had been discharged October 15, as cured, after an incarceration of six weeks. The police, in reporting the case, stated that Rev. Rupprecht owns several houses besides the one occupied by his family."

OP COURSE

Gov. LaFollette's Message Will Be Very Sensational.

Madison, Wis., Dec. 5.—Governor LaFollette's message to the legislature, which meets this week, will be the most sensational and longest ever written by him. In addition to demanding the strengthening of the new railroad rate law a new department will be the recommending of holding down the big moneyed men of the state.

MRS. ROGERS' EXECUTION

Will Be Conducted According to Law Says Sheriff.

Windsor, Vt., Dec. 5.—Preparations for the execution of Mrs. Mary Rogers continue and Sheriff Peck says, "The death sentence will be carried out according to law. I will be in charge of the execution and as sheriff see that Mrs. Rogers is executed as the laws interests and Vermont justice decree. I will not say whose hand will spring the drop."

CIGARS!

The taste of a cigar is affected by its condition as well as the grade of tobacco in it. If it is too dry it has a hot, smarting, tongue-biting taste. If it is too moist, its taste is full of nicotine. Our cigars are kept just right in all kinds of weather. The reason—

J. H. OLSCHLAEGER
DRUGGIST

THE SCHOOL BOARD WANTS TO BE HEARD

Desires the Charter Amended in Regard to School Levy.

Will Ask the City for Representation on the Charter Amendment Committee.

GREATLY NEEDS THE MONEY

The legislative boards of Paducah meet in joint session tonight for the purpose of discussing proposed charter amendments for cities of the second class, and a strong pressure will be brought to bear to have someone from the school board appointed on the committee, which will be sent to Lexington to prepare for legislating the proposed amendments decided on by the joint committees from each second class city. As far as superficial observation goes little attention has been given the matter of educational facilities, inasmuch as the school board has been ignored in the amendment matter and it is said the schools in cities of the second class are ground hard indeed in the matter of funds, not having sufficient levy under charters of the second class to properly conduct the schools.

This morning Supt. C. M. Leib called Mayor D. A. Yeiser up over the telephone and suggested the matter of appointing a member of the school board on the committee to go to Lexington and the matter will come before the boards tonight. The schools have been tightly pinched ever since the city went into cities of the second class, and a charter amendment seems to be the only relief, and will be hard fought for, it is said.

"When Paducah went into cities of the second class," a well known official stated this morning, "the third class board left the incoming school board with a debt of several thousand dollars. This debt was assumed by the board succeeded by the present board and it left the present board a legacy of $8,000 or a little more, possibly. Under cities of the third class the schools got a levy of 50 cents on the $100 but under second class cities can get only 35 cents. Since that time the board has built one new school, the McKinley school, at a cost of about $12,000 and bought two lots, the Herzog lot and the Rowlandtown lot for new schools, the lots costing $1,000 each. In addition to this the standard of teachers, necessary to the advancement of the schools and educational facilities, has been raised and more money paid them. The increase in salaries will amount to $1,000 more. Take this into consideration and you will see what a pinch the board gets into on such a small levy. We can't stand up under it, and if the schools are to prosper and advance, or even remain at the present standard, some provisions will have to be made for a greater levy. This can be done by a charter amendment only, and we will urge that this be one of the amendments the city asks, for and that a representative from the school board be put on the charter amendment committee to help urge it through the legislature."

The board is drawing on the future in making the necessary improvements it has, and has had much more to look after than any preceding board. The money is not spent in any careless way, but always judiciously and when the situation which at present confronts the schools is felt by the legislators, there is little doubt for the safe passage of an amendment increasing the allotment of the schools.

It is not known whether the schools in other Kentucky second class cities are experiencing the same trouble as the Paducah schools, but educators say they must be if there is any progress made.

The Paducah schools since the city went into the second class, have made wonderful progress and a better advertisement for the city could not be had. The fact that colleges and universities accept Paducah High school graduates without examination is one fact that a standard of efficiency reached by few schools in cities of Paducah's size, is maintained here.

Mayor Yeiser stated this morning that he had nothing to say relative to the allotment to the schools. He stated that the boards tonight would act on the matter if it is brought up, and as for himself he would say nothing.

Mayor Yeiser did not deny that the present school levy is too small.

The reason that the schools in other second class cities do not suffer much on account of the levy is that the assessed valuation of property there is so much larger. In Paducah there is a valuation of about 100,000.

A DIMPLE MAKER.

Find a child with dimples and chubby arms and legs and you find a healthy child. Find one with drawn face and poor, thin body and you see one that needs Scott's Emulsion. Your doctor will no doubt tell you the child is fat-starved—its food is not nourishing it.

Nothing helps these thin, pale children like Scott's Emulsion. It contains the very element of fat they need. It supplies them with a perfect and quickly digested nourishment. Scott's Emulsion brings dimples and rounded limbs.

SCOTT & BOWNE, 409 Pearl Street, New York.

ington, Newport and Covington there is twice as large a valuation, and hence the money netted by the levy, is enough. It took a fifty cent levy to run the Paducah schools before Paducah went into the second class, but under the third class only thirty-five cents can be levied, and the valuation of property is no larger. This in reality reduces the school fund below what it was before Paducah went into the second class, because of the increased annual school expenses.

KENTUCKY NEWSLETS

Bids for K. of P. Home Property.

Owensboro, Ky., Dec. 5.—Several bids for the Pythian Widows' and Orphans' Home property at Lexington have been received by grand keeper of records and seal, J. W. Carter, of this city. Mr. Carter received a letter today from the grand chancellor of the Knights of Pythias saying he will call a meeting at an early date to consider the bids.

Death at Water Valley.

Fulton, Ky., Dec. 5.—At his home near Water Valley, Jim Reeds, a prominent farmer, died of typhoid fever. He was 60 years of age and was a brother of E. C. Reeds of this city, and of Lucian Reeds of Lodgeton, and is survived by a wife and two married daughters, both living near Water Valley.

Burned to Death.

Hopkinsville, Ky., Dec. 5.—While sitting in front of the fire playing a fiddle, Gus East, aged 33 years, fell headforemost into the blaze, and his body from knees up was burned to a crisp. He had been ill for some time, but had sufficiently recovered to sit up, and other members of the family had left the room. When they returned he was lying in the fireplace dead, his fiddle having also been consumed.

Shot Down in the Street.

Campbellsburg, Ky., Dec. 5.—Jas. Shipp, until recently a butcher of this place, arrived here on the noon train, and after ascertaining that Joe Smith, another butcher, was in town, stepped into a hardware store, procured a shotgun and looked up Smith. He had gone only half a square when he found him on the street and shot him dead. Shipp tried to kill himself after being arrested. A plea of insanity may save him.

Heavy Snow in Kentucky.

Corbin, Ky., Dec. 5.—The heaviest snow known in this country for years was that of the night of Dec. 2. It lasted for over three hours and at daylight the whole landscape was white. About three inches on the level was the measurement. Sunday was clear and bright, but at 11:30 p. m. a light snow was again falling and the ground was frozen hard. It is the severest weather known in this section for many years and the earliest snow since 1863.

Hit a "Blue Gum" Negro.

Louisville, Ky., Dec. 5.—Charles Selvage, one of the best known contractors in Louisville, almost lost his life by hitting a "blue gum" negro in the mouth. The bite of the blue gum was fatal, according to southern belief. Selvage was superintending some work and the negro resenting an order, attacked him. Selvage hit him in the mouth and lacerated his hand on the negro's teeth. Blood poisoning developed. For a time it was thought Selvage would not recover, but he is now out of danger.

LAST TRIBUTE PAID

REV. J. N. HALL TODAY

Funeral at Fulton, His Home, This Afternoon.

He Was One of the Most Prominent Baptist Writers and Ministers in the Country.

WAS BELOVED BY EVERYBODY.

Fulton, Ky., Dec. 5.—The funeral of Rev. John Newton Hall, editor of the Baptist Flag, who died yesterday at his home here, took place here this afternoon.

It was Saturday night, Nov. 25th, just after Rev. Hall had preached the closing sermon at the General Baptist Association of America, better known as the Landmark Baptist Association, that he took suddenly ill at the home of an old friend at Texarkana, Ark.

Notwithstanding the fact that he was quite sick he left Texarkana for Prescott, Ark., where he had an appointment with Rev. T. C. Mahan to assist in a meeting, but when he reached Prescott he was not able to fill his appointment, and it was not until then that he felt any uneasiness regarding his condition when a message was sent to his wife and daughter to come at once.

Rev. Hall's desire to come home was so great when he realized his condition that his physician after consultation granted his request.

John Newton Hall was born in Henry county, Ky., February 15, 1849, and had he lived, would have been 57 years old the 5th day of February, 1906.

Rev. Hall was a man of deep learning and great piety and his ancestors were among the early pioneer settlers of Kentucky.

In 1871 Rev. Hall won Miss Mary Earl, at that time the belle of Carle county, who lived near Arlington, Ky. To this union four children were born, and Miss Ruth Hall is now the only one surviving.

In 1883 Rev. and Mrs. Hall moved to Fulton to reside, and after 28 years of married life she died.

In 1890 Rev. Hall was united in marriage to Miss Smith, of Trezavant, Tenn., who survives him.

There is probably no Baptist divine in the south who had a wider acquaintance than Rev. Hall, and as a writer and orator he had but few equals. Many years ago he associated himself with the American Baptist Flag and in 1897 he became its editor and proprietor. He was one of the leading promoters of the Baptist Publishing Co., which was organized and incorporated under the state laws of Arkansas with $100,000 capital stock at Little Rock, Ark., last year, and so well known was his success with the Flag that he was selected as president of the corporation.

As a Baptist divine, Rev. Hall entered the ministry when quite young and at his death was pastor of the Arlington, Ky., and Bozvar, Tenn., churches.

Rev. Hall's services to Fulton during his 22 years residence can never be forgotten.

METHODIST COLLEGE.

The Local Committee Holds a Meeting This Afternoon.

A meeting of the committee in charge of locating the Methodist college at Paducah will be held this afternoon at the store of the Rhodes-Burford Furniture company, on Fourth street, between Broadway and Jefferson.

Mr. H. C. Rhodes says there is nothing new to give out. The committee still feels hopeful of locating the college here and is offering every inducement in its power to get it. There are a half a dozen fine sites on which options have been taken and already a member of the educational committee has looked over them and expressed himself as highly pleased with Paducah.

It will not be long until there is a decision. The fight is between Paducah, Owensboro and Central City. The latter place offers $10,000 in cash for the college but as it is not the location Paducah is there is little prospect of that place getting it.

A contrary woman would make herself more so if she weren't too contrary to do it.

MRS. M. F. HAM DEAD.

Wife of Well-Known Evangelist Dies at Bowling Green.

TEST CASE

Made of the Fraternity Building License.

News has been received here of the death in Bowling Green yesterday of Mrs. M. F. Ham, wife of Rev. M. F. Ham, the evangelist, who conducted a series of revival services at the First Baptist church of this city several years ago. Mrs. Ham accompanied her husband here, and made many friends during her stay. She was a sweet and lovable woman and an earnest and enthusiastic Christian worker. By her singing and music she greatly aided her husband in his work, and always went with him wherever he was conducting a meeting.

No details of her death have been received, except that she was taken sick recently at Beaumont, Texas, where Mr. Ham was holding a revival. He immediately closed his meeting and returned to Bowling Green.

by friends in other places. The funeral took place this afternoon at 2 o'clock in Bowling Green.

The case against the owners of the Fraternity building for a breach of ordinance in failing to pay a license for running an office building, will go to circuit court for the purpose of having Judge Reed pass on the validity of the license ordinance.

It is the allegation of the company that a license can not be imposed in the manner essayed for running an office building and it refused to pay in order to test the validity of the ordinance. By agreement this morning the defendant was fined $25 and costs and granted an appeal to circuit court. In event the court decides the ordinance valid, the defendant will be ordered to pay the fine and costs.

POOR PAY

Causes a Shortage in County School Teachers.

A statement has been issued by State Superintendent of Schools Jas. H. Fuqua, that the county superintendents over the state will not be permitted to issue special license to teachers. In 1904 there were many schools in various counties without teachers and it was decided by the state authority to issue special license to persons desiring to teach, thereby filling the vacancies caused by the scarcity of regular licensed teachers. The order was made last year, giving many persons without certificates license to teach in the common schools. There are as many vacancies this year as there were last year, but superintendents refuse to permit persons without certificates to teach. Mr. Fuqua thinks the scarcity of teachers is due to poor pay they receive from the state. It is said that there are one thousand schools in the state without teachers.

PADUCAH MAN

Is Among the List of New I. C. Appointments.

Nashville, Tenn., Dec. 5.—Three appointments for the Nashville division of the Illinois Central were made today, as follows:

John M. Egan of Shreveport, La., roadmaster, with headquarters at Nashville; H. W. Duval of Paducah, Ky., supervisor of bridges and buildings, with headquarters at Princeton, Ky.; J. W. Meehan, of Fulton, Ky., trainmaster, with headquarters at Nashville.

A large crew was at work today preparing for extending the joint terminal facilities of the Illinois Central and Southern.

NEW CABOOSSES

Turned Over to the Nashville Division By Paducah Shops.

Yesterday two new cabooses turned out of the Paducah shops were delivered to Princeton to go on the Nashville division of the I. C.

The Nashville division is fast assuming a smooth running schedule and conditions are generally better than when the division first came into existence on the first of the month. The Louisville division officials are turning their attention to the operation of this division in order that more perfect connections be made, and have been of great assistance to officials of the Nashville division in maintaining a smooth running schedule. The delays experienced the first day or two have gradually been decreased and the division is now running with remarkable smoothness.

ONLY ONE CHANGE

In the New Time Card Sunday, So Far as Announced.

ORDER RECEIVED

To Make a Distribution in the Charleston Case.

Yesterday an order was received here in the case of the steamer Charleston, from Federal Judge Walter Evans, of Louisville, who has had the case under advisement since federal court adjourned here.

He ordered a distribution of $1,500 the remainder of the $2,026, the price the boat brought when sold by order of the court, which had been held until a controversy between the boat owners and Hawkins & Sons has been settled. The balance amounts to $500 or more. The distribution will be made in a day or two.

CITY FATHERS HOLD REGULAR MEETING

Many Matters Considered by the Board Last Evening.

The councilmanic board met in regular session last night with all members present.

Mayor Yeiser stated that the terms of sanitary inspectors expired with first of the month, and that Health Officer W. T. Graves thought at least one inspector should be retained.

A motion to discontinue the services of both sanitary inspectors, however, was carried unanimously.

Mayor Yeiser stated that the office of City Electrician Gilsdorf expired this month, and presented the application of W. T. Graves for appointment to the place. The matter to refer the matter to the joint fire and police committee to report back was adopted.

Wm. Gilsdorf was ordered to continue as inspector until further notice.

Mayor Yeiser reported that the hospital board had received bids for adding more wards at Riverside hospital and that he had received but one bid, that of Fred Schiffman. Later, after the contract had been let, he learned that two other contractors had left bids under his desk. The matter was referred back to advertise for new bids.

Schiffman has employed Attorneys Orice and Ross, and says if the city does not give him the contract, he will enjoin the city, thereby bringing the city into litigation.

The recommendation to donate to the Charity club $500 to be paid in monthly installments of $100 each was favorably acted on.

The mayor stated that the financial committee fixed the fee of Hendrick and Miller, attorneys for services to the city at $250. The fee the attorneys asked for $350 and they refused to accept the compromise. Later the $250 was allowed.

Mayor Yeiser urged the members of the board to be on hand tomorrow at the joint meeting for the purpose of discussing charter amendments. Mayor Yeiser read a letter from Dr.

McCormack, of Bowling Green, saying that Bowling Green, and other cities, paid the health officer for extra duty during the yellow fever quarantine and thought that legislative boards should pay health officers for such extra duty. With the better he read a communication from Health Officer W. T. Graves asking that he be paid for his constant service during the quarantine. Mayor Yeiser stated that he would recommend the payment for this special work. He worked three months issuing health certificates. A motion to pay $300 was referred to the financial committee.

The market house was reported leaking and the matter was referred to the board of public works to make the repairs, and if the contractors can be held for the defects, to report back to the board for action.

The petition from the Aycock Hosiery mills for exemption from taxation was referred to the ordinance committee to bring in an ordinance.

An extension of the mains on Jefferson from Fourteenth to Sixteenth streets was reported.

The petition from Wm. Gilsdorf for re-election to the office of city electrical inspector was filed.

Mayor Yeiser read a petition from the state banks relative to discrimination against them in assessment and taxation. The petition stated that the tax assessed is an imposition. They asked that a conference be held with the view of coming to some agreement. Mayor Yeiser recommended that such a conference be held, and the motion to refer the matter to the joint finance committee was adopted. The committee will meet the banks at an early date.

The report of the auditor for the past month was received and filed. It showed a balance of $105,397.95 at the close of November.

The finance committee report, for bills, salaries, etc., was received. As Street Inspector Elliott lost his city check for $90 he desired the city to duplicate it. The board voted to duplicate the check, Inspector Elliott agreeing to indemnify the city. The lost check has been out three months, and has not been presented for payment.

The following ordinances were acted on:

Ordinance exempting the new box and basket company from city taxation for five years was read. The total property is nineteen acres and it is said the plant covers but one acre. Councilman McBroom and Taylor thought that the owners might build residence house and escape taxation. Mr. Wm. Hummel, of the Commercial club, stated that the building cost several thousand dollars and all property not utilized for the plant was in ravines and that the board did not understand the situation; that the box factory men intended to do nothing but what is right, and just.

The report of the auditor for the past month was received and filed. It showed a balance of $105,397.95 at the close of November.

First reading was given by a full vote.

Ordinance exempting the Sherrill-Russell Lumber company (paning mill) from taxation for five years. First passage.

Ordinance exempting the Hardy Buggy Co. from city taxation for five years.

Councilman Rehkopf stated that one building was not owned by the company, but by another man. It was stated that the property had been leased for ten years, the company to pay all taxes during that time.

First reading, Councilmen Katterjohn and Rehkopf voting nay.

Ordinance prohibiting lewd women from entering saloons. The ordinance was deferred until after the board of aldermen had acted on the ordinance, this ordinance having been turned down twice by the upper board.

The reports from Chief of Police James Collins for November was received and filed.

The report of Electrical Inspector Gilsdorf was received and filed.

A prayer from Henry Stone, a city employee, who was injured while in discharge of his duty, asking that he be paid his salary for the time he was ill, was referred.

Messrs. F. E. Ramey and J. T. Jenkins, of 918 South Eighth streets, were granted a liquor license.

A liquor license was granted Lee Hite at 10th and Husbands streets.

A prayer for relief from John W. Dicke for alleged overassessment was referred.

A prayer for relief from F. E. and A. Langstaff for an alleged overassessment was referred.

Several deeds and transfers to lots in Oak Grove cemetery were ratified.

A proposition from Ghent and Elliott, agreeing to remove dead horses, dead animals, etc., from the city; also dumping city garbage for the privilege of converting the dead animals into soap, and for $30 monthly for the dumping of city garbage, was presented and referred.

Councilman McBroom brought up the question of collecting or attempting to collect, a 10 per cent penalty after December 1, on city taxes when the charter read that the tax penalty did not go on until January. No action was taken.

The market master was ordered to have cleaned daily the cuspidors at the market house.

Solicitor Campbell stated that he had the consent of Attorney General Hayes to use the name of the commonwealth in the suit against the East Tennessee Telephone company to oust the company from the city, or to compel it to buy a franchise. He explained the entire procedure of litigation between the city from the start to date. He stated briefly that the company and city had a contract that the city pass a certain class of ordinance for the sale of a franchise, and that the city did not fulfill this part of it, therefore the company was notified to receive back the $3,600 it paid in the contract, or the passage of an ordinance such as was agreed on by the city and telephone company.

The matter of paying the money back, in order that a new suit, in the name of the commonwealth, to be prosecuted to a final judgment, was referred to the finance committee, and the city solicitor ordered to proceed with the suit.

On motion the board adjourned.

RARE DISEASE

Contracted by a New York Man From a Rabbit Bite.

New York, Dec. 5.—Dr. A. M. Pappenheimer, one of the assistant pathologists of Bellevue hospital, has gone through the experience of contracting, by experimentation, one of the rarest diseases known in this latitude.

Dr. Pappenheimer was bitten by a rabbit which had been inoculated with the blood of a patient suffering from "gumme" or relapsing fever, and which has been practically unknown in New York since 1869, the febrile condition being peculiar to tropical climates.

Charles Nettl, a ship's steward and a patient at the hospital, was suffering from the malady, which he had contracted in Calcutta twelve years ago. An ounce of his blood was taken from the arm and part of the fluid was injected into the arterial system of two rabbits. While examining the pupil of the eye of one rabbit, Dr. Pappenheimer was nipped on the hand.

NO EFFORT

To Be Made to Establish Army Post at West Point.

Washington, Dec. 5.—It is probable that no effort will be made in this congress to secure a camp of instruction at West Point, Ky. Congressman D. H. Smith who worked for the location of a camp at West Point, in conjunction with Congressman Zenor, of Indiana, in the last congress, learns that there is no hope whatever of securing the proposed camp.

"The war department," said he, "has practically abandoned the idea of purchasing large reservations and establishing permanent camps of instruction. The later trend is entirely in the direction of renting the amount of land required. It is easy to procure suitable ground at a rental during the two or three months needed every year, of about 5 cents an acre. The war department finds this a much more economical plan than the proposed method of purchasing the land outright, and erecting the necessary buildings and providing the necessary improvements. If there were any prospect whatever of getting a camp of instruction located at West Point I would urge the matter upon the war department and congress, but there is not the slightest ground upon which to hope for favorable action."

CHAPTER XXIX.

AFTER what seemed an age to Monty, the Flitter, in tow of the freighter Glencoe, arrived at Southampton. The captain of the freight boat was a thrifty Scotchman, whose ship was traveling with a light cargo, and he was not therefore averse to taking on a tow. But the thought of salvage had caused him to ask a high price for the service, and Monty, after a futile attempt at bargaining, had agreed. The price was $50,000, and the young man believed more than ever that everything was ruled by a wise Providence, who had not deserted him. His guests were heartless when they heard the figure, but were as happy as Monty at the prospect of reaching land again.

The Glencoe made several stops before Southampton was finally reached on the 25th of August, but when the English coast was sighted every one was too eager to go ashore to begrudge the extra day. Dan DeMille asked the entire party to become his guests for a week's shooting trip in Scotland, but Monty vetoed the plan in the most decided manner.

"We sail for New York on the fastest boat," said Monty and hurried off to learn the sailings and book his party. The first boat was to sail on the 30th, and he could only secure accommodations for twelve of his guests. The rest were obliged to follow a week later. This was readily agreed to, and Bragdon was left to see to the necessary repairs on the Flitter and arrange for her homeward voyage. Monty gave Bragdon $15,000 for this purpose and extracted a solemn promise that the entire amount would be used.

"But it won't cost half of this," protested Bragdon.

"You will have to give these people a good time during the week, and—well, you have promised that I shall never see another penny of it. Some day you'll know why I do this." And Monty felt easier when his friend agreed to abide by his wishes.

He discharged the Flitter's crew, with five months' pay and the reward promised on the night of Peggy's rescue, which was productive of touching emotions. Captain Perry and his officers never forgot the farewell of the prodigal, nor could they hide the regret that marked their weather-beaten faces.

Plans to dispose of his household goods and the balance of his cash in the short time that would be left after he arrived in New York occupied Monty's attention, and most men would have given up the scheme as hopeless. But he did not despair. He was still game, and he prepared for the final plunge with grim determination.

"There should have been a clause in Jones' conditions about 'weather permitting,'" he said to himself. "A shipwrecked mariner should not be expected to spend a million dollars."

The division of the party for the two sailings was tactfully arranged by Mrs. DeMille. The Valentines clapped the "second table," as Subway Smith called those who were to take the later boat, and she herself looked after the first lot. Peggy Gray and Monty Brewster were in the DeMille party. The three days in England were marked by unparalleled extravagance on Monty's part. One of the local hotels was subsidized for a week, although the party only stayed for luncheon, and the Cecil in London was a gain for several thousand dollars for the brief stop there. It was a care worn "little band that took Monty's special train for Southampton and embarked two days later. The "rest cure" that followed was welcome to all of them, and Brewster was especially glad that his race was almost run.

Swiftly and steadily the liner cut down the leagues that separated her from New York. Fair weather and fair cheer marked her course, and the soft, balmy nights were like seasons of fairland. Monty was cherishing in his heart the hope inspired by Peggy's action on the night of the storm. Somehow it brought a small ray of light to his clouded understanding, and he found joy in keeping the flame alive religiously if somewhat doubtfully. His eyes followed her constantly, searching for the encouragement that the very blindness of love had hidden from him, forever tormenting himself with fears and hopes and fears again. Her happiness and vivacity puzzled him. He was often annoyed; he was now and then seriously mystified.

Four days out from New York, then three days, then two days, and then Brewster began to feel the beginning of the final whirlwind in prodigality clouding him oppressively, ominously, unkindly. Down in his stateroom he drew new estimates, new calculations and tried to balance the old ones so that they appeared in the light most favorable to his designs.

Going over the statistics carefully, he estimated that the cruise, including the repairs and the return of the yacht to New York, would cost him $210,000 in round figures. One hundred and thirty-three days marked the length of the voyage when reckoned by time, and, as near as he could get at it, the expense had averaged $1,580 a day. According to the contract, he was to pay for the yacht, exclusive of the cuisine and personal service, and he had found it simple enough to spend the remaining $1,080. There were days, of course, when fully $5,000 disappeared, and was secure. Taking everything into consideration, Brewster found that his fortune had dwindled to a few paltry thousands in addition to the proceeds which would come to him from the sale of his furniture. On the whole he was satisfied.

The landing in New York and the separation which followed were not entirely merry. Every discomfort was forgotten, and the travelers only knew that the most wonderful cruise since that of the ark had come to an end. There was not one who would not have been glad to begin it again the next day.

Immediately after the landing Brewster and Gardner were busy with the details of settlement. After clearing up all of the obligations arising from the cruise they felt the appropriateness of a season of reflection. It was a difficult moment—a moment when undelivered reproofs were in the air. But Gardner seemed much the more melancholy of the two.

Piles of newspapers lay scattered about the floor of the room in which they sat. Every one of them contained sensational stories of the prodigal's trip, with pictures, incidents and predictions. Monty was pained, humiliated and resentful, but he was honest enough to admit the justification of much that was said of him. He read bits of it here and there and then threw the papers aside hopelessly. In a few weeks they would tell another story and quite as emphatically.

"The worst of it, Monty, is that you are the next thing to being a poor man," groaned Gardner. "I've done my best to economize for you here at home, as you'll see by these figures, but nothing could possibly balance the extravagances of this voyage. They are simply appalling."

With the condemnation of his friends ringing in his troubled brain, with the sneers of acquaintances to distress his pride, with the gibes of the comic papers to torture him remorselessly, Brewster was fast becoming the most miserable man in New York. Friends of former days gave him the cut direct, clubmen ignored him or scorned him openly, women chilled him with the keenness of unspoken reproof, and all the world was hung with shadows. The doggedness of despair kept him up, but the strain that pulled down on him was so relentless that the struggle was losing its equality. He had not expected such a home coming.

Compared with his former self Monty was now almost a physical wreck, haggard, thin and defiant, a shadow of the once debonair young New Yorker, an object of pity and scorn. Ashamed and despairing, he had almost lacked the courage to face Mrs. Gray. The consolation he once gained through her he now denied himself, and his suffering, peculiar as it was, was very real. In absolute recklessness he gave dinner after dinner, party after party, all on a most lavish scale, many of his guests laughing at him openly while they enjoyed his hospitality. The real friends remonstrated, pleaded, did everything within their power to check

STRANGE ADVICE!

Dr. G. G. Green gives alert personal attention to his great humanitarian contract.

In our Almanac for many years past we have given unusual advice to those afflicted with coughs, colds, throat or lung troubles or consumption. We have told them if they did not receive any special benefit after the use of one 75-cent size bottle of German Syrup, to consult their doctor. We did not ask them or urge them to use a large number of bottles, as is the case in the advertising of many other remedies. Our confidence in German Syrup makes it possible for us to give such advice. We know by the experience of over 35 years that one 75-cent bottle of German Syrup will speedily relieve or cure the worst coughs, colds, bronchitis or lung troubles—and that, even in bad cases of consumption, one large bottle of German Syrup will work wonders. his awful rush to poverty, but without success. He was not to be stopped.

At last the furniture began to go, then the plate, then all the priceless bric-a-brac. Piece by piece it disappeared until the apartments were empty and he had squandered almost all of the $40,000 arising from the sales. The servants were paid off, the apartments relinquished, and he was beginning to know what it meant to be "on his uppers." At the banks he ascertained that the interest on his moneys amounted to $19,140.86. A week before the 23d of September the whole million was gone, including the amounts won in Lumber and Fuel and other reckless enterprises. He still had about $17,000 of his interest money in the banks, but he had a billion pangs in his heart—the interest on his improvidence.

He found some delight in the discovery that the servants had robbed him of not less than $3,500 worth of his belongings, including the Christmas presents that he in honor could not have sold. His only encouragement came from Grant & Ripley, the lawyers. They inspired confidence in his lagging brain by urging him on to the end, promising brightness thereafter.

Sweeney Jones was as mute as the animals in which he lived. There was no word from him. There was no assurance that he would approve of what had been done to obliterate Edwin Peter Brewster's legacy.

Dan DeMille and his wife implored Monty to come with them to the mountains before his substance was gone completely. The former offered him money, employment, rest and security if he would abandon the course he was pursuing. Up in Fortieth street Peggy Gray was grieving her heart out, and he knew it. Two or three of those whom he had considered friends refused to recognize him in the street in this last trying week, and it did not even interest him to learn that Miss Barbara Drew was to become a duchess before the winter was gone. Yet he found some satisfaction in the report that one Hampton of Chicago had long since been dropped out of the race.

One day he implored the faithful Bragdon to steal the Boston terriers. He could not and would not sell them, and he dared not give them away. Bragdon dejectedly appropriated the dogs, and Brewster announced that some day he would offer a reward for their return and "no questions asked."

He took a suit of rooms in a small hotel and was feverishly planning the overthrow of the last torturing thousands. Bragdon lived with him, and the Little Sons of the Rich stood loyally ready to help him when he uttered the first cry of want. But even this establishment had to be abandoned at last. The old rooms in Fortieth street were still open to him, and, though he quailed at the thought of making them a refuge, he faced the ordeal in the spirit of a martyr.

BAPTIST CONVENTION.

important Committee Meeting to Be Held in Louisville Dec. 14.

Dr. J. N. Prestridge, secretary of the executive committee of the Baptist general convention, has called a meeting of the committee to be held in Louisville Dec. 14, to fix the time and place for the meeting of the next general convention of the Baptist church.

The general Baptist convention, the first meeting, of which was held in St. Louis last spring, has for its object the bringing of the Southern Baptist convention and the Baptist Association, the official body of the Northern Church, into closer harmony. Both the convention and the association meet next May, and it is the purpose of the committee to hold the general convention between the two dates. The Baptist convention will meet at Chattanooga, Tenn., and it is possible that the general convention will also be held there. Hereafter, the general convention will be held every three years.

THE LEGISLATURE

A Number of the Members Have Similar Names.

In the organization of the next Kentucky general assembly there will be in the senate thirty-one democrats and seven republicans.

There will be 105 votes in the joint democratic caucus, and fifty-three votes constitute a majority.

As usual, there are several duplicate names in the house, although there is only one Jones and one Smith. There are two Coles—W. H. Cole, of Allen, and H. K. Cole, of Daviess. There are two Morrises—V. M. Morris, of Edmonson, and J. S. Morris, of Oldham. There are two Millers—H. C. Miller, of Hardin, and R. W. Miller, of Madison. Spelled differently, but pronounced the same, is Chris Mueller, of Louisville. There are three Wilsons—J. Thomas Wilson, of Henderson; Munnell Wilson, of Hopkins, and George S. Wilson, of Union.

There will be sixteen new senators who did not serve in the last body, although most of them have had previous experience in the senate or the house. There will be only nine senators who have not been in the legislature. Nineteen members of the last house were re-elected.

KENTUCKY CLUB

Meets at Washington and Elects Officers.

Washington, D. C., Dec. 5.—Harry Taylor, of Louisville, has been elected president of the Kentucky republic club, composed of Kentuckians employed in the government printing office. The club numbers upwards of two hundred members, and will give a reception on the sixth of January in honor of the republican delegation in congress from Kentucky. All the representatives from Kentucky will be invited. Thirty-five years ago Mr. Taylor was a printer's apprentice in the Courier-Journal at job printing company, but has been employed in the government printing office for thirty-three years.

THE PETIT JURY

BEGINS BUSINESS

Judge Reed Announced That He Will Brook No Delay.

Starts the Criminal Docket and Is Making Good Headway—Will Fine Delinquents.

Circuit Judge Wm. Reed began the second day of the December term of McCracken circuit court by announcing that he intended to have no unnecessary delays in his court business and everybody would have to hurry.

Several cases had to be postponed today because witnesses were not on hand. In one case Constable A. H. Patton who had been regularly summoned, failed to appear and was arrested on an attachment, brought to the court house and fined $5 for contempt of court in failing to put in his appearance at the proper time. He claimed he thought he was summoned for the grand jury.

Judge Reed stated that when witnesses were not there he would send out and get them and make them pay for their carelessness or forgetfulness.

The first thing this morning in court was the empanelling of the petit jury. The jury is as follows: Messrs. W. J. Koch, E. W. Bockman, W. R. Holland, Tobias Stegar, C. S. Langston, Leonard Block, J. W. Houser, Howard Warden, J. W. Hall, G. J. Moore, J. H. Carneal, J. R. Beach, G. Thornberry, G. W. Walker, S. M. Ware, R. H. Jeffrey, T. H. Young, M. G. Sale, J. K. Bondurant, S. M. Johnson, C. L. Acree, L. T. Gilbert, T. B. Fannin and J. A. Morgan.

Judge Reed then turned to his docket and began business.

Larry Rogers, colored, was fined $25 and costs for gaming.

The robbery case against Albert Buck, white, was dismissed. Jimmie McRae was implicated but acquitted last term. They were charged with robbing T. E. Riley of his watch and the witnesses could not be secured.

Wm. Wells, white, a farmer of the Mayfield road, was fined $100 and costs for shooting in sudden heat and passion. He shot a negro named Henry Tumor and was charged with malicious shooting.

In the case against Alex Yeltema and Harry Phillips for the alleged theft of a watch from Joe Warford, the bond of Phillips was declared forfeited. Yeltema is still in jail.

Thomas Baker, colored, charged with aiding "Dago" Johnson in cutting Greathouse Cheatham, was dismissed, the evidence being too weak against him.

N. J. Menifee, white, charged with passing a worthless check, was granted a dismissal. There was no evidence against him.

The case against James Rickmon for keeping open on Sunday: two against W. H. Patterson for nuisance and one against Dr. H. T. Heggis for renting a house to a bawd, were dismissed.

The indictment against Joe Woody, white, charged with selling a stolen stove, was filed away on account of the absence of witnesses.

The robbery case against Will Putrell, colored, for alleged robbery of Geo. Chandler of $20, was dismissed.

The case against Lawyer Jesse Moss for the alleged converting money to his own use, was continued by agreement.

The second case against Dr. H. T. Heggis for renting a house to a bawd was continued.

The case against Tom and Sam Evitts for alleged malicious assault on Patrolman Sam Beadles is on trial in circuit court.

The case was continued at the last term of court.

The assault is alleged to have been made last summer near 13th and Clay streets when Officer Beadles had ordered women out of saloons.

The evidence will require probably all the afternoon if not longer. The case was called this morning but deferred while the Lindo Murphy case was taken up.

Mrs. A. Wyatt was this morning acquitted of a charge of flourishing a pistol in the presence of Constable A. H. Patton.

She was fined in the police court but took an appeal to circuit court. She resides on Jackson street and is well known.

At press time the case against Lindo Murphy, known in Graves county as "King of Bootleggers," for alleged grand larceny, was on trial. Murphy came here at noon and the case was tried immediately on arrival for the accommodation of attorneys, the Evitts case being deferred for the time being. Murphy is charged with stealing $25 from a man named J. D.

CHRISTMAS TREE

FOR THE POOR

The Rev. R. W. Chiles to Give the Youngsters Usual Treat.

Asks The Sun's Readers to Assist in the Very Laudable Enterprise.

WHERE TO SEND DONATIONS

The Christmas spirit is already in the air and the youngsters are writing letters to Santa Claus every night. The jolly old fellow will come with his sleigh loaded to its fullness to the homes of many little fellows, as he has prospered greatly the past year.

To a great host of children the tinkle of Santa's sleigh bells is rarely heard, however. The poor tots are not usually on his visiting list.

But these children have a friend in Paducah who usually sees that the big hearted saint does not slight them—The Reverend R. W. Chiles of the Rescue Mission. With his estimable wife, Mr. Chiles gives the poor of Paducah a Christmas tree every year, and is now at work soliciting for the tree to be given this year.

The press has always assisted Mr. Chiles each year and The Sun shall do so again this year. We have a good many friends who also assist in the noble work and are counting on them again, too.

Every day the coupon below will be published in The Sun as a reminder of the Christmas tree, and for our readers to use in making any contributions for it. The contributions can be sent to The Sun or Mr. Chiles at any time. Send anything, a toy something wearing apparel or money—just anything. It will be appreciated.

I enclose you a contribution for the Christmas tree for the benefit of the poor children of Paducah.

A DOG LAW

As Usual, Will Be Presented in the Next Legislature.

The usual "dog" law is now being prepared for presentation to the general assembly when it meets in January, but on account of the superstition connected with such a law the name of the man who will introduce it is being kept secret, says a Frankfort dispatch to the Courier-Journal. Legislators have a fixed belief that any man who introduces a law taxing dogs will be beaten at the next election, and for this reason the members are decidedly scared when there comes up the usual dog law.

This law, which is being prepared, will provide a tax of $1 a dog, to be collected by the sheriff, and the fund to be set apart to pay for any damage which may be done to sheep by dogs. The law is similar to such laws in other states, and the fund is thought to be enough to reimburse sheep-owners for the killing of sheep by dogs. The sentiment in favor of a dog law is said to be strong, and there will be much pressure brought to bear to have the law passed, although it is certain to meet with opposition from some of the country members.

VERY INGENIOUS.

Young Men Construct an Artistic Piece of Work in a Bottle.

WILL ORR and Clarence Pratt, of the South Side, have performed a remarkable feat with a pint glass bottle and some bits of pine wood.

They have built inside a bottle the crucifixion of Christ in completeness. The Savior is nailed to the cross, the center piece of the work, and on each side is a robber with the small dice and boxes used in shak-dice for the clothes. The ladder by which the cross was mounted is also complete as is the spear and the swathe with which the vinegar was placed in his mouth.

The work is excellent. All figures and parts of the work are glued and not a loose piece can be found. The bottle is on exhibition in the Sun office.

GOOBER DAY

TENNESSEE BRINGS IN ONE OF BIGGEST CARGOES ON RECORD.

Had 4,030 Sacks, Which Covered the Wharf and Overflowed the Entire Place.

Peanuts were stored on the river bank and the wharfbark this morning so thick that it was almost impossible to get about the wharfbark. There were stacks of them in large sacks and small boys and negroes were moving among them picking up the strays.

The goobers arrived this morning on the Tennessee, which came in from the Tennessee river with the biggest shipment of peanuts that has been sent to Paducah or out of that water course this season. There were exactly 4,030 sacks of the nuts. After the wharfbark had been piled full of them the bank was used. The Tupper Transfer company has in service several wagons hauling them to the Southern Peanut factory and it will be a hard job for the teams to get them all there before 6 p. m.

The cargo of nuts amounted to about $10,000 to the Southern Peanut company so far as pay to the farmer. This does not include freight handling and hauling. These bags hold about four bushels each, some that much and others over. They are cleaned and sold to firms in other cities.

However, this is not the largest shipment of peanuts that was ever received here. Several years ago, according to Wharfmaster Frank Brown, and Manager Scott, of the Southern Peanut company, the steamer or John Gilbert brought out of the Tennessee river 10,250 bags of peanuts, which was the largest number ever brought here on a single trip. Last year the Southern Peanut company received 5,482 bags, which was its banner shipment.

The Tennessee this morning also brought 80,000 feet of lumber, several hundred cases of other miscellaneous freight. It was one of the biggest freight trips brought out of the Tennessee river this year.

The next boat in this trade to arrive is the steamer Kentucky, which is due Thursday or Friday and is expected to have an immense cargo.

ARTERY SEVERED.

By a Hoop Which Fell On Alex Watkins' Foot.

Alex Watkins, white, an employee of the Paducah Coopers Co., met with a painful accident at the plant this morning.

He was working in the hoop department when a large iron hoop accidentally dropped on his right foot. The iron cut the flesh and severed an artery. The foot bled profusely but the young man was taken to the office of Dr. J. S. Troutman and the injury dressed.
